MANIFESTO ON THE SPANISH INSTITUTIONAL METAMAFIA

Large media companies are already institutionalised. People are their clients. The majority of the people are unaware of the reality, so the media hide the news on the seriousness of this reality. It can be concluded that the Spanish public sector is a big byzantine business, as per the official information and the news published. This already has dramatic consequences on most of the Spanish people.

The following news listed below show the deterioration well:

1. "The institutional metamafia as the cause for the decay of Spain" (alertanacional.com, 21/02/2020).
2. "A bunch of cowboys country: Spain has a public body per 2,300 people" (Voz Populi, 02-02-2020). This article explains that the public sector's main priority is the illicit gains of the public authorities.
3. "More than 75% of Spanish people don't trust the political parties, the parliament and the government" (efe.com, 06/03/2019).
4. "The state sewers under scrutiny by the judicial system" (elpais.com, 08/04/2019)
5. "One segment of the police forces implicate the former king Juan Carlos in the 'Pujol case'" (El Mundo 2017); "The former mistress of former king Juan Carlos confirms she was used as a front man to launder money"; in 2012, The New York times published the news that former king Juan Carlos had a fortune of $2,300 millions; "The former Elf president said, already in 2003, that he had delivered to the personal address of the former king Juan Carlos a 55 million euros commission"; "The Spanish Tax Office TECNICOS believe that the former king Juan Carlos could be investigated for tax fraud and money laundering" (europaPress, 12/07/2018); "The Swiss public prosecutor gathers evidence on the front man plot involving the former king Juan Carlos, the First" (diario.es, 19/02/2020).
6. The public prosecutor's office and the public defender's office request the charges on the princess Cristina to be lifted", "The government must allow the Law to rule on the princess (EL MUNDO)", "Lady Cristina on the dock (ABC)" and "The Tribunal rejected in the proceedings the summons as witnesses for the current Head of State, Felipe VI as well as for his father Juan Carlos" (www.lamoncloa.gov.es); "Princess Cristina evaded money, upon the Tax Authorities specialists. These specialists disagree with the considerations from the Tax Authorities technicians that have appeared in court at Noos case" (El Mundo, 07/06/2016); "The Tax Authorities deny any special treatment to the princess and confirm that everybody gets the same treatment", "El Mundo journal published that the Tax Authorities had approved as valid three false invoices", "The PSOE political party condemned the political meddling in the Tax Authorities" and "Political parties UpyD, PNV and ICV believe the Tax Authorities are favouring the princess" (03-12-2013, RTVE.es); "The international press focus on the acquittal of the princess on fraud" (radiocable.com, 17/02/2017); "The trade union "Manos Limpias" (Clean Hands) brand as "outrageous" the fact that the Supreme Court sentenced them to pay the legal costs when it wasn't even a rash complaint, neither was there bad faith, when the Investigating Judge and even the Palma de Mallorca Chamber accepted the complaint as they considered there was solid evidence of crime in many of the legal ruling they issued" (LaVanguardia, 12/06/2018).

7. In 1983 the Spanish government set up the Liberation Antiterrorist Groups (GAL in Spanish). This way the State-sponsored terrorism. Currently this is performed via the National Center of Intelligence (CNI), the Ministries of the Interior and Justice, and the Department of Public Prosecution.
8. It was in the tragic year 1985 that the State-sponsored terrorism was institutionalised, through three main laws: a fundamental law that was an act of parliament governing the judiciary (LOPJ in Spanish, by which the politicians appoint the members of the highest governing body of the judges), the Spanish Electoral Law (it safeguards the bipartisanship and established the alliance between the two main political parties PP (right wing) and PSOE (left wing) and the Savings Banks Law (which allows politicians to control up to a 51% of the Spanish banking system). The Spanish government warns that "those that don't accept this will get out of the picture", and demands obedience and subjugation to the public authorities; this way the meta-mafia was born, establishing criminal priorities for all public sector. To keep the meta-mafia, public and administrative authorities allow any civil servant to use the institutional power to become rich or satisfy his/her vices. Their own benefit and that of the whole civil servants become the priority for politicians, police forces, judicial authorities, tax authorities staff, national insurance, Bank of Spain, CNMV (the National Securities Market Commission), social services, educational and health centers, state-owned companies, ministries, autonomous and municipal institutions, etc. The meta-mafia criminal business becomes an institutional priority.

9. The legislative perversion of justice is now the norm and never have the members of parliament been criminally sentenced (GRECO 2013). The law hinders the public interest to favour a minority (abusecracy) and the institutions (slave totalitarianism). The sentences from the European Court for Human Rights (TEDH) and from the Court of Justice of European Union (TJUE), the reprovals for not having incorporated into national law international rules, or for not having put them into practice (like the one from United Nations Convention against corruption from 2003), as well as many news press, confirm all this. The Constitutional Tribunal and the Supreme Court have repeatedly reproached the lawmaker for keeping law that has been declared corrupt by the European tribunals. On 19 February 2020, the Constitutional Tribunal President “drew attention on the need to harmonise our legal system with the european law, not just through the Human Rights European Tribunal jurisprudence, but mainly through the principles, values and goals of the European Union, gathered in the EU treaty articles 2, 4.2 and 6” (Constitutional Tribunal, press note on 19 February 2020).
10. The executive perversion of justice is the norm and it's never sentenced. Spain is then, leader on this subject within Western Europe. The GRECO (Group of States against Corruption) reports, the reproaches for not ratifying the international law (like the European Criminal Convention against Corruption) and the abundant news press on corruption confirm all this. Every rule, every budget allocation and expense benefit only the minorities jeopardising the majority (abusecracy and social parasitism), consolidating the meta-mafia and speeding up a downward spiral.
11. The perversion of justice is the norm and bribery is usual (sale of court sentences). The judicial corruption is the largest within Western Europe; it has destroyed the society and it keeps destroying thousands of people's lives every year. The GRECO reports, the European and international tribunals sentences, as well as the limited news press confirm all this. The judges consolidate the abusecracy and the totalitarianism. There is a revealing case, showing this systemic corruption, described in “Making a rapist; the Romano van der Dussen’s ordeal” (elpais.com, 06/03/2016); “The lsit of judges that received payments from Ausbanc” (elplural.com, 30/05/2016); “Six out of 10 Spanish people don’t trust in justice” (abc.es, 22/11/2013); “125 innocent people are still in jail since 2002 due to serious mistakes (elpais, 21/12/2009), no judge was convicted for those “mistakes”.

12. The perversion of justice at the Constitutional Tribunal is the norm, as the rejection of more than 90% of the appeals and sentences from the European Court for Human Rights (TEDH) and from the Court of Justice of European Union (TJUE) confirm.
13. In 2016, the European Court for Human Rights (TEDH, Spanish acronym), sentenced Spain for the abuse of the democracy and for threatening lawyers defending the institutional victims (Ravelo case). Threatening lawyers strikes out democracy and the rule of law, further, it establishes the tyranny of the judges. This threat becomes the most serious state terrorism or institutional terrorism that violates the defense counsel right (ie.: the right to be defended by a lawyer), leaving people vulnerable. Thus, the public authority creates an authoritarian totalitarianism, which is the worst system. Despite this sentence from the European Court for Human Rights, lawyers and managers of judicial victims associations are still sentenced.
14. “Spain is undergoing the fifth year at the top of the environmental offences in Europe” (eldiario.es, 23/02/2020). Sanitary overspend and premature deaths.
15. “Corruption in the army: gifts and meals for the high command in return for contracts for companies” (diario16.com, 05/12/2019).
16. The regulated education indoctrinates, radicalises, dehumanises and stupefies. All this document says wouldn’t be possible if there was a minority largely enough that wasn’t so ignorant or socially irresponsible.
17. “The issue of Cifuentes MBA shows that the state university is corrupted” eldiario.es, 19/08/2018); the state university the Complutense, the largest university in Spain: “This faculty is fully endogamic: all the people there are either parents, brothers and sisters, even lovers” (abc.es, 26/02/2020) and “My university works as a political machine network, following the finest mafia style” (elpais.com, 10/02/2017).

18. The World Health Organisation (WHO) recognises, due to the high number of mental disorders, that the Spanish society is destroying itself, and creating ill people. “Mental health is the 3rd cause of temporary disability in frequency, and the one that lasts longer”, “Over a million people on average don’t turn up to work on a daily basis”, “There is a mental disorder behind 62% of the work disabilities”, “Between 2004 and 2013 a total of 4.947.157 patients were admitted to hospital with a psychiatric diagnosis, at least once in a year (single patients)”, “The neuropsychiatry illnesses are the first cause of illness burden in Spain”, “The total expense for mental disorders and neurological illnesses in Spain amounted to 83.749 million euros in 2010, this equals to 8% of GDP”. “About 38,2% of the European population suffers from mental disorder on a daily basis (European Commission 2010)”. As per judicial statistics, in 2018 there were 18.288 involuntary committals, many of them illegal, and 5.511 removal of competencies, when there is wealth, usually the judge sells the judgment to steal that wealth.
19. “Alert: psychotropic weapons attack and control our minds” (elespanol-com 8/12/2019).
20. The rise of the public as well as private, psychiatric and psychologically business is an indefensible evidence of the macro-State.
21. Spain is going into its 5th year of environmental offences in Europe (eldiario.es, 23/02/2020).
22. Upon the National Statistic Institute (INE in Spanish), there were more than 3.600 suicides annually and 22.376 deceases in 2018 due to mental disorders (13.040 in 2008 and 11.796 in 1998).
23. The public health kills and maims without penalising the majority of those that are responsible for.
24. The prisons are full of innocent people, sometimes in jail due to institutional retaliation.
25. There are psychiatric committals due to institutional retaliation.
26. “There has been more than 6.600 cor torture or police abuse cases since 2004 in Spain” (Público, 01/02/2015).

27. Two organisations of the National Health system in Spain have been reported for having defrauded the workers on their work disabilities and retirement rights” (Kaos en la Red, 2019). This criminal report also informs that work life data of over 200.000 workers has been falsified and that they had sent 135.225 letters with falsified work life data to delay retirement. This criminal report has been brought in front of the UN Committee against Torture in 2020, informing that “there are no statistics of the deceases caused”.
28. An Association has reported to the Public Prosecutor Council at the Public Prosecutor’s Office the existence of a “judicial intimidation Mafia” (kaosenlared.net, 12/04/2018). This report was expanded in 2020 by the alliance of DENUNCIANTES DEL AUTORITARISMO JUDICIAL (whistleblowers on judicial authoritarianism) with information on intimidation to all lawyers (upon the TEDH- European Court for Human Rights) and to all directors of judicial victims associations and brought in front of the Public Prosecutor’s Office, the UN Committee against Torture and 68 judicial authorities, the General Council of the Judiciary amongst them.
29. Civil servants receive productivity bonuses for saving public monies illegally and for covering up corruption.
30. Promotioin in the civil service requires a totalitarian record. “Being accused of serious crimes against corruption is not an obstacle for promotion in Spain” (ex Juez Elpidio Silva, Twitter 22/02/2020).
31. “Kinship links in the Court of Audits reach out to a 100 employees” (El País, 23 JUN 2014).
32. There is retaliation against whistleblowers that report authoritarianism and corruption; politicians, police officers, prosecutors and judges included. The most shameless case was that of the Secretary General of the Manos Limpias (Clean Hands) trade union. He was the main accuser of corrupted politicians, directly through his complaints, or indirectly as his complaints became the key booster to the start of the great media business on corruption. As retaliation for having sent a member of the Royal Family to the dock, he was sent to prison with false accusations.

33. The largest gap between rich and poor people in Western Europe. Most likely, the majority of rich people are public authorities (wealth re- allocation in the macro-State).
34. "More than 3,5 million Spanish people live with less than 350 euros per month, this represents 7,6% of the population" (Agencia EFE, 13 oct. 2016).
35. "Areas without water and electricity, choosing between heating or food, poverty, evictions...Spain is failing to the most vulnerable" "Drastic dusting down to Spain from the UN Rapporteur for Extreme Poverty and Human Rights" (El Mundo, 7 febrero 2020". The Rapporteur also said that: "The current poverty levels are due to political decisions in the last decades" (nuevatribuna.es, 07/02/2020).
36. The public sector manages an expenditure equal to the 42% of the GDP (on average during the last 20 years)" (BBVA Research, July 2018).
37. In 2017 86.579 millions of euros were paid on retirement pensions (7,5% of GDP). This is the largest fraud in history. It is to note that retirement was defined at 65 years of age when, at the time, the life expectancy was shorter, so the payment on the retirement pensions was not significant; the public authorities, however, have not delayed the retirement age despite the longevity increase; the reason was to impoverish and invalidate (psychological, professional and socially) a growing and more relevant percentage of the population. As the former socialist Minister, Mr. Solchaga, said in 2018: "Nor even half of them have paid even half of what they are receiving". The reality is that social contributions were very low under the Franco dictatorship, so many pensioners receive now much more than they have paid, defrauding the following generations. This intergenerational fraud limits the economic possibilities of the population to oppose the metamafia (i.e.: the corrupted institutions), and sets up illegitimate and byzantine interests to keep it going (patronage). Further, this is one of the main causes why the mass population (the majority of them ignorant) supports the welfare state and deviates the attention of a large part of the social activism that backs the system without knowing it. 9.695.870 pensions as at 31/12/2018.
38. Spain has the largest institutional corruption in Western Europe.

THINK TANK

The European Commission confirms this. It is allowed because the public authorities of all institutions are profiting and because of the institutional retaliation of the whistleblowers.

39. "Corruption costs more than 90.000 million of euros yearly in Spain, almost 8% of GDP" (RTVE 07.12.2018). The cost was 87.000 million euros in 2016, 48.000 million euros in 2015 and 40.000 million euros in 2014. Clearly corruption has been institutionalised in the whole public sector because prosecutors and judges allow for it, as they also profit from it.
40. "2015 started with more than 150 cases of corruption initiated in all tribunals. More than 2.000 suspects await a trial"(El País). However, none of them included the former King, neither the President nor former Presidents; neither was there any prosecutor or judge, despite all of them having enough reasons to be included, as per the mass media.
41. "The corrupted person does not think about bribing because all judges know what it is expected from then if they want to afford food" (eldiario.es, 10/03/2015).
42. The "EU Anti-Corruption Report" (3.2. 2014) states: "According to the 2013 Special Eurobarometer on corruption, 63% of respondents (highest percentage in the EU) consider themselves personally affected by corruption in their daily lives (EU average 26%), while 95% say that corruption is a widespread problem in the country (EU average 76%) and 91% say that corruption exists in local and regional institutions (EU average: 77%)", in the "2013 Eurobarometer on Corruption", 83% of Spanish companies surveyed (highest percentage in the EU) considered corruption to be widespread in public procurement managed by national authorities (EU average: 56%) and 90% (second highest percentage in the EU) in procurement managed by local authorities (EU average: 60%).
43. The European Commission's "EU Anti-Corruption Report" (3.2.2014) states: "A database built on open sources includes approximately 600 municipalities and 5 144 alleged corruption cases reported in the media between 1996 and 2009", "In 2011, 1 754 judicial proceedings were opened in cases relating to alleged illegal acts in land use and urban planning, and convictions were issued in 408 cases".

45. The first report of the new OIReScon, the Independent Office of Regulation and Supervision of Contracts, (December 2019) states that 52.9% of public contracts are overpriced. There are 120,000 public contracts which, according to the Ministry of Finance, account for 13% of GDP.
 46. "The Ministry of Justice acknowledges that it does not know where the 500 million in legal fees have gone" (europaPress 12/02/2015).
 47. The largest informal (underground) economy in Western Europe, exceeding 20 per cent of GDP. Dirty money does not pay taxes and is therefore a scam on all Spaniards. "The OECD believes that the Spanish tax system encourages underground economy" (El Economista, 22/09/2015). Indeed, it is allowed because public authorities and their partners benefit most, directly and indirectly. "The underground economy takes 23% of the tax revenue. Irregular activity has a cost of around 70 billion to the public coffers" (El País 21 JUN 2018). This is another social scam, by some privileged citizens through the institutional cover-up for the rest of the population.
 48. Corruption through subsidies and other benefits for social agents: political parties, large trade unions and employers' associations, as well as professional associations and associations/foundations of members of metamafia created with public money and subsidized ("546 foundations, 35 non-profit institutions; 461 commercial companies [...] by mid 2019" (Voz Populi, 02.02.2020). In this way, meta-mafia corrupts the social sector, which is the only one that can oppose it (the population must come together in associations to defend ourselves against the violence exercised by the state, World Social Forum (2001) and European Social Forum).
 49. Subsidised society (private individuals and organisations from the business and social sectors). Social parasitism through centrally planned economy.
 50. Given the large volume of the informal economy, it can be said that most people on poverty or unemployment benefits are cheating the rest of the people.
 51. Intentional administrative obstacles: "11% of the beneficiaries of

- rental assistance lose it through negligence". (El País, 29 JUL 2018).
52. Tax benefits for the rich and large corporations.
 53. Favouring groups deprived of power, where members favour each other, often in an anti-legal way.
 54. Public procurement from family and friends of metamafia and its business partners, both in their businesses and through public employment.
 55. Favouring that supports metamafia, through the continuous granting of rights and benefits that are then not fulfilled, such as in pensions, dependency, work incapacity, etc. They are not complied with by means of additional laws that limit rights or by failing to comply with the law by order of the Government in office. In this way, meta-mafia gains the support of the masses (the ignorant, selfish and socially irresponsible majority).
 56. "Social Security begins to refund overcharges to the self-employed" (Cinco Días, 8 May 2018). "Slap on the wrist to Spain: it is illegal to exclude another country's pension from the calculation of early retirement" (Expansión, 5 DEC 2019).
 57. Destruction of the social sector, through privileges and subsidies to organizations suitable for abusecracy, with enrichment of their leaders, generally public authorities, family and friends.
 58. Use of spy services and police forces to control social activists and associations acting against metamafia.
 59. "14 televisions charged with corruption in the SGAE 'wheel'" (ABC, 05/02/2020).
 60. Bribing and intimidating the media to hide the existence of totalitarian metamafia (institutionalised media). A former editor of El Mundo, in his book "El director" (2019), describes state terrorism and totalitarianism as follows: "Power had ceased to fear the press and now it was the press that feared power".
 61. A former director of El Mundo, in his book "The Director" (2019), describes the extortion of journalists from companies as follows: "Everyone pays [...] He thinks that for a big company it is not money, a few thousand euros. But the consequences of not doing so can be serious if they spread a rumour that damages the image of the company or its president".

62. A former editor of El Mundo, in his book "The Editor" (2019), describes the corruption of all types of journalism as follows: "The extra salaries for informants were now the order of the day, paid by media agencies, football clubs, political parties and large companies like Telefónica, which during the presidency of César Alierta had 80 of the country's best known informants subsidised [...] Free meals in the best restaurants, cars lent out indefinitely and loans at interest unimaginable for the rest of the population were the order of the day".
63. Regarding the "Global Public Sector Performance Indicator [...] Spain's index stood at around 3.4 in 2017, in the 80th position out of 137 countries" (BBVA Research, July 2018).
64. In 2019, the number of public salaries has exceeded that of private salaries.
65. One of the lowest Interprofessional Minimum Wage in Western Europe.
66. Highest labour taxes in the world.
67. Highest unemployment and structural unemployment in Western Europe.
68. These punishments for work decrease productivity and impoverish the entire population. "While productivity in Spain increased by around 16% in 2017 compared to 1996, in the European Union it increased by over 30%" (BBVA Research, July 2018). The constant decrease in Spanish productivity (in relation to the rest of the world), corruption and the maintenance of the macro-state, are making life in Spain worse every day.
69. Higher prices in basic services (banking, electricity and telecommunications) in the European Union.
70. The centres for minors in Spain: a lucrative business where sometimes extreme techniques are used (eldiario.es, 07/01/2019).
71. Monitors of a centre for minors in Mallorca knew that there were girls in prostitution" (telecinco.es, 24/01/2020); "There is prostitution of minors under guardianship all over Spain" (elpais.com, 26/02/2020)

73. The Church registered 30,000 properties as its own in almost two decades" (El País, 13 Aug 2019), "The tax haven of the Spanish Catholic Church" (eldiario.es, 12/01/2017)
74. Authorities and public officials (politicians, judges, prosecutors, police, leaders of institutions) involved in organised crime: murder, paedophilia, kidnapping of minors, arms and drug trafficking, money laundering, falsification of official documents, appropriation of assets and inheritance, corruption, retaliation, etc. Spain is the gateway for the entry of drugs into Europe due to the participation of the public administrative and judicial authorities. The turnover of this metamafia is much higher and causes more victims, even death, than all the private mafias.
75. Brussels reprimands Spain for not applying the anti-money laundering Directive and threatens sanctions" (El Economista, 12/02/2020).
76. The Spanish public authorities, both administrative and judicial, live on the fringes of reality and the law, with total IMPUNITY.
77. Institutional discredit delegitimizes democracy. This widespread mistrust of institutions has been noted by the public Sociological Research Centre (CIS) and by the European Union's Eurobarometers.
78. For all the above reasons, Spain could be called Swindleland.

The above points describe the contemporary Spanish society, a decadent criminal society that has been created by the institutions, with the support of the media power, the financial power, the business power, the trade unions, the professional associations and the society as a whole, including the consent of the highest democratic power: the masses.

A minority of judges have pronounced themselves on this situation; among others the following:

- Judge Alaya, who said among other things: "My criticism is of the system" [...] of a pact between the PP and the PSOE", "I stated that the dependence on the General Prosecutor's Office made it impossible for all the prosecutors in Spain to investigate the cases". (2018-2019).
- Former Judge Elpidio Silva: "If I blow the whistle the system would not stand it" (2013), "The judiciary is an instrument of oppression [...] in an authoritarian monarchical regime [...] rights are worthless, the person is worthless", the state is "mafia-like" (2020); "Two words summarise the impunity and degradation suffered by the Spanish state, as a result of the actions of #Spanish Justice: Fear Cowardice" (2020).

- Judge Acayro said: "There is much more corruption than citizens imagine" (2017).
- "Judge Presencia: "They are trying to annihilate us, the judges that denounced corruption"" (diario16.com, 21/03/2019).

On 4-4-2016, in an interview with a Spanish professor, the latter stated that the Spanish crisis is due to institutional corruption, stating: "With institutions like the Swedish ones, Spain would progress like Sweden". He is right, but no country in the world is an example to follow, because they all have a metaphor. The "American dream", "communism" and the "welfare state" are all failed models due to the existence of metamafia in all of them.

Spaniards believe that the current young generations are living worse than their parents (Report to the European Council of the Reflection Group on the Future of the EU in 2030 which was delivered in 2010). All of the above news items have resulted in this widespread recognition of the indisputable situation of decline and, it is said, the agony of the "78 regime".

The member countries of the European Union spend huge amounts of public money, to learn new methods of enriching institutional leaders and public authorities, and to impoverish the population in order to subdue it more easily.

The decline continues to increase in a context of economic growth and increasing wealth created by the business sector; it is therefore clear that the decline is produced by the national public sector (metamafia), with the consent of the international bodies that have documented this situation.

It is necessary for the minority with a sufficient level of unindoctrination to reflect on the meaning of the above, and especially on the following:

- A systemically corrupt public sector directly controls 42% of what we produce, directing the lives of people and private organisations, for its own benefit and that of its partners in abuse.
- The appropriation of everyone's money (confiscation), limits resources for entrepreneurship and innovation, further driving low productivity and low competitiveness, obedience and submission, authoritarianism, corruption and, in general, decadence.

- In addition, the public sector manipulates another relevant percentage of the economy, through laws that benefit a few with the support of the rest of the public authorities, increasing the centralised planning of the economy. As a result, Spain has the most expensive basic services (electricity and telecommunications) in the European Union.
- This centrally planned economy, like communism, has institutionalised various scams from one to another: eight percent of GDP in corruption, 7.5 percent for retirement pensions, six percent in tax fraud, etc. Just adding up these three concepts, more than 21.5% of GDP is swindled from citizens.
- The public sector decides when and what we should study, when we come of age, when we cannot work, when we should retire, what most of the money we produce is used for, enslaving the population.
- 8% of the GDP is spent on services and pills to alleviate mental and neurological disorders that are mainly produced by metamaфия (impositions, obstacles, education, health, centralised economy, corruption, authoritarianism, etc.). In this way, businesses are promoted that generally harm mental health even more, such as psychiatry, psychiatric admissions and psychology, which prioritise the maintenance of their clients, abandoning guidance to help them overcome their problems.
- This unfair and unnecessary management of that more than 71.5% of the money we produce, makes people (exploitative minority, consenting majority and the majority in general) have serious mental disorders until they reach suicide, with a very low quality of life compared to the resources produced and a worse life every day. Decline is unsustainable and it is more dangerous to maintain the established order than the necessary revolution to change it.
- A small group of psychopathic morons (Government: members of the Council of Ministers) decide on most of the economy and the way of life of the Spanish people. They have the mitigating factor that inertia rules more than they do, but is this concentration of power, which is characteristic of democracy, necessary?

THINK TANK

- With the existence of the social sector and businesses, would a public sector made up only of criminal courts and a tax authority be preferable, in order to have a fair society that constantly improves people's lives?

Authoritarianism (public authorities that do not comply with the law with total IMPUNITY) is the core problem of democracies.

Non-profit direct authoritarianism is more destructive to society than direct profit (corruption in the restrictive sense), because it is destroying all European societies, increasing the widespread discredit of national and European institutions, and of democracy, having led European societies to decline.

Russian philosopher and writer Alissa Zinovievna correctly described metamafia as leading to decadence when she wrote:

"When you see that trading is done, not by consent, but by compulsion—when you see that in order to produce, you need to obtain permission from men who produce nothing—when you see that money is flowing to those who deal, not in goods, but in favors—when you see that men get richer by graft and by pull than by work, and your laws don't protect you against them, but protect them against you—when you see corruption being rewarded and honesty becoming a self-sacrifice—you may know that your society is doomed".
